THE REGENSBURG CHRISTMAS MARKET
NOVEMBER 25 – DECEMBER 23

A special highlight of our Christmas culture

Regensburg's Christmas Market is rightly considered one of the most beautiful Advent markets in Germany and was voted number 1 in a Facebook poll as the most popular in Bavaria. Its tradition dates back to the 18th century. Today you'll find it a gratifying combination of craft market and meeting place for young and old in the pre-Christmas period. Culinary tip: Regional specialties such as blueberry mulled wine from the Bavarian forest or apple mulled wine from Upper Palatinate orchards are especially popular.

ROMANTIC CHRISTMAS MARKET AT THURN AND TAXIS CASTLE NOV. 22 – DEC. 23

(CLOSED NOV. 24 – TOTENSONNTAG / SUNDAY IN COMMEMORATION OF THE DEAD, CHRISTIAN HOLIDAY)

Romance and stardust

Thousands of lanterns bathe the imposing façade of St. Emmeram in atmospheric light. The "Romantic Christmas Market with traditional crafts" is one of the most beautiful Christmas markets in the world. Stalls preparing mulled wine at open fireplaces offer warmth and coziness. In addition to "wild boar on a spit" from the princely forests or the traditional "Regensburger with everything", there are also vegan and vegetarian options. Under old maple trees, the air smells sweetly of roasted almonds. The "Children's Magic Forest" attracts visitors with its steam locomotive, ship swing, Ferris wheel, and petting zoo. Every day at 5pm, 6pm, and 7pm, the "Princely Christ Child" appears on the castle's magnificent balcony and recites a cheerful and contemplative poem. When the Romantic Christmas Market at Thurn and Taxis Castle closes its doors, night owls continue to celebrate. Monday to Thursday from 10pm and Friday and Saturday from 11pm, night owls take over the Thurn and Taxis "Großes Blockhaus" chalet until 2am each night. An atmosphere like this is usually found only in the mountains.

DOMSPATZEN REGENSBURG

Advent & Christmas with the Domspatzen

In the year 975, Bishop Wolfgang founded his own cathedral school in Regensburg. This was also the year that the Regensburg Domspatzen choir was founded. Over 1000 years later, the boys' choir is one of the oldest and most famous choirs in the world.

The undisputed highlight: The song "Silent Night" (Silent Nacht) at Christmas Mass in St. Peter's Cathedral, where the Domspatzen have always been at home. At Christmas, the Domspatzen can be heard at midnight mass with orchestra and on Christmas Day a cappella.

People come from all over to listen to the Domspatzen choir and get into the Christmas spirit. The choir traditionally gives six Christmas concerts in its hometown, in the Audimax at the University of Regensburg. "Inmitten der Nacht" (In the middle of the night) is the title cathedral conductor Christian Heiß has given to the program for these evenings. The Regensburg Domspatzen use the language of music to tell of the anticipation and joy of the birth of the Savior. The oldest boys' choir in the world, it has been a lively a cappella ensemble for over 1050 years. Motets and carols from the Middle Ages to the present day are performed during Advent and Christmas. The Christmas carols and the boys' solo performances so beloved by the audience will not be missing this year. For many, this is an annual musical highlight with choral singing in a class of its own.

Here are the dates for the 2024 Christmas concerts in the Audimax:

Fri. Dec. 6, 7:30pm; Sat. Dec. 7, 6pm
Thu. Dec. 12, 7:30pm; Thu. Dec. 19, 7:30pm
Sun. Dec. 22, 4pm

 Tickets: www.okticket.de

"Advent in the Spatzenstube" – children's and family concert 2024

Do the young singers have an advent calendar? Or bake cookies? How do they come to have such wonderful voices in the first place? Is there a trick to this? And why are they all lined up so perfectly? Together we'll learn that and much more. An enjoyable Christmas journey through time with excellent choral music! A new concert format for children aged five and up, and their favorite people, presented by Uta Sailer (BR Klassik) and Susanne Grünig (NDR Klassik).

Date: Sun. Dec. 1, 4pm, Audimax Regensburg

 Tickets: www.okticket.de

At home in the world, home is Regensburg

The Regensburg Domspatzen is one of the world's most famous choirs. They have a tradition spanning over 1000 years, making them probably the oldest boys' choir in the world. Besides the choir of the cathedral conductor, there are two other boys' choirs. The institution of the Domspatzen in Regensburg also includes an elementary school, a high school with all-day care, and a boarding school. Since 2022, the Domspatzen also admits girls to its high school and boarding school, for the first time in 1047 years. They form a separate girls' choir.

FIFTH ECUMENICAL NATIVITY WALK

Advertisement

Regensburg follows the star

From an initiative of the bishops of Regensburg in cooperation with the Department of Culture, Stadtmarketing GmbH, and the Krippenfreunde, a new tradition is born: During the Christmas season, Regensburg becomes the city of nativity scenes. From November 27, 2024 to January 20, 2025, the Fifth Ecumenical Nativity Walk will lead you through the UNESCO World Heritage Site. During a wintry walk through the alleys of the Old Town and Stadtamhof, a variety of modern and historical representations of the event of Christmas can be discovered.

Those who follow the star will find scenes of the birth of Christ in churches, shop windows, and foyers, designed lovingly and with great creativity, transposed into the reality of life in the 21st century. A charming idea for this time of year. Follow the star and be amazed by nativity scenes from Bavaria to Africa with expressive figures and masterfully designed landscapes, from traditional craftsmanship to contemporary three-dimensional sculptures, in impressive abundance.

Ceremonial opening of the Nativity Walk on Saturday, November 30, 2024, at 5pm at Rathausplatz.

 Detailed information on the nativity scenes and the accompanying program will be available at www.regensburg-stern.de from the end of November.

8 REGENSBURG CHRISTMAS CIRCUS

BRILLIANT WITH BREAK DANCING AND SHADOW THEATER

"Let there be light!" is the name of the new program of the eighth Regensburg Christmas Circus. It picks out bright accents for the whole family during the most beautiful time of the year.

Producer Thomas Schütte from Grandezza Entertainment and director Rodrigue Funke promise break dancers in a sizzling atmosphere, luminous figures, a colorful LED show, magical shadow plays by Sergi Buka from Barcelona, and much more. Once again, they build on past successes with a new program. The eighth consecutive circus provides a two-hour program of family fun, excitement, poetry, and power, specially conceived for Regensburg. The mix and dose are crucial, as the makers know, and they finely tune their individual performances to one another. Regensburg can look forward to a breathtaking program: Hair-hang acrobatics, eccentric and flexible artistry from Mongolia, high-wire heroes on two levels, magical moments and cheerfully poetic escapades by international star Misha Usov from California.

"Whether in the air or on the ring floor, we look forward to making Regensburg shine again," says Schütte, who can hardly wait for the Regensburg Christmas Circus to start.

On December 21, 2024, glorious Christmas carols will ring out for the seventh year in a row, for a good cause, starting at 7pm.

IMMERSIVE LIGHT AND VIDEO INSTALLATION

ENLIGHTMENT – A FASCINATING JOURNEY THROUGH THE SEASONS

"Birds are chirping. Delicate green appears on the ceiling and walls and sprouts multiple, colorful flowers. It's spring and life is awakening!"

The creation was completed in February and continues this winter with the light show Enlightenment, an abstract homage to the cycle of life. From November, we will be presenting another German premiere at the Minorite Church with the new show by Zurich-based artist collective Projektil. The immersive light show dresses the entire interior of the church in light and color, with an audiovisual metamorphosis of spring, summer, autumn, and winter: the joyful awakening of spring, violent summer storms and tempests, the exuberant play in the colorful autumn leaves. And finally, the first snowflakes and ice crystals, before we break the eternal cycle of the seasons in a spectacular finale. The visually stunning animations are of course accompanied by – what else?! – music from Vivaldi's Four Seasons, newly arranged and recorded for Enlightenment.

Live music for the light show

As was the case last winter, this year's Special Nights will once again feature some very special concerts on several dates. In this format, we are showing a long version of the show. This is accompanied live by musicians with their own concert program, which they have coordinated precisely with the show or even composed especially for it.

REGENSBURG PUPPET THEATER

Fires the imagination

In the middle of Regensburg's city park is a small theater that transports adults and children into a world full of fantasy. Situated in a Rococo house, the Regensburg Puppet Theater conjures a diverse program of classical and modern storytelling, musicals, and fairy tales. The performers are marionettes with charm and character. Under the direction of Evi Robl and Heinz Polkeh and the musical direction of Sepp Frank, your visit to the Regensburg Puppet Theater will be an unforgettable experience.

THE BRUCKMANDL IN WINTRY MAGIC

On the crest of the Old Stone Bridge, the Bruckmandl statue gazes toward the cathedral. According to legend, it represents the builder of the Old Stone Bridge, checking with his hand shading his eyes to see how high the cathedral towers had risen. He had made a bet with the cathedral's master builder as to which structure would be completed first. As the cathedral's construction seemed to be progressing much faster, the master bridge builder made a pact with the devil, who said he would support the builder if he could have the first three souls that went across the new bridge. Discover how this story ends on the "Regensburg – experience a historic city" tour. A suspenseful tour!

THE REGENSBURG CHRISTMAS ABC

CHRISTMAS-SHOPPING

Small shops under medieval arches characterize Regensburg's Old Town. Here everyone is guaranteed to find the right Christmas gift. Here you discover things you've never seen before that fulfill your heart's desire.

They still exist in Regensburg – shops that you enter through a rather small door, behind which a whole cosmos opens up. A journey begins, exploring the finest assortments of paper, dried fruit, specially blended teas, brushes, men's hats, Christmas tree baubles, cherry wood frames, fine soaps, distinctive fragrances, piano sheet music, and handmade designer jewelry. These shops are landmarks in their own right.

Here you'll receive the best service and advice. Often the owners themselves stand between the shelves and displays. They love what they do and their businesses are their lives. And they're especially pleased to meet customers who appreciate this and are as discerning as they are when it comes to that something special.
